Class Ode

CHALLENGE

It's time to part from work and fun;
Eternal search 'til last.
And now, for us, the hour is done.
Those wonder days have passed.

We search anew ideals most high,
Our eyes cast forward glance;
And through it all we hear no sigh,
For future gives us chance.

Great trials and joys alike we'll meet.
We know God at our side;
We'll face life's charge in battle's heat,
Go forth with staunchest pride.

By EDWARD ALUSOW

Class Poem

THE TIME OF LIFE

Skies are threatening;
Thunderheads snatch from sight
The gilt and tinsel of Heaven's fires;
A shadowy stillness forewarns
Of squalls and tempests fast approaching.
Yet, our horizon is cloudless,
Our hopes undaunted;
'Tis the time of life.

The torrent begins
With whistling blasts and reckless downpour,
As when Aeolus smote the cave of winds,
And whirling gales assailed the face of Earth.
War? Fear? Illness? Failure?
We search our hearts for memories,
'Tis the time of life.

The ancient elm bends
Beneath repeated blows of April's winds,
And torn from roots, the quivering foliage falls.
This dancing play of world, its beauty fierce,
Overwhelms the passions, hopes, of older men,
While we, with joy intense, dare to dare
The teeming, shifting blasts of fate;
'Tis the time of life.

Then silence reigns,
As Neptune chases gathered clouds
And once more brings the sunshine back.
At eve—the crimson tints of fleeting sun
Meet azure shades of twilight,
And yet—our day has just begun;
More storms, more twilights loom ahead;
'Tis the time of life.

Communication is the basis of all human progress. It is the essential feature of any social group. Perhaps the most important factor contributing to the ills of the world today is the failure of people to communicate successfully with one another.

Certainly one way of correcting this situation is through the study of foreign languages, which can introduce us to new ways of thought and to different customs and manners.

A rich variety of languages, including Spanish, French, Russian, German, and Latin, was offered at BHS. In addition to the competent language faculty, the language laboratory was a valuable aid in providing students with the opportunity to hear native speakers and to imitate their pronunciation.

 Last row: Mr. James Lazour, Mr. Kenneth H. Sheetz.
 Not present for the picture: Mr. Thomas E. Nash.

The history courses at Brockton High School endeavored to enrich students with a strong sense of civic responsibilities. This year, in addition to the regular classes, several group teaching periods were held. The entire body of history students heard different speakers talk on subjects not ordinarily covered in the classroom or supplementary topics to the regular work.

The Drama Festival Group, under the direction of Mr. Richard Boucher and Miss Gail P. Roycroft, presented "Lights Out," a ghost story, in the annual Drama Festival. The festival was held at Norwell High School, Norwell, Massachusetts. The students who acted in the play were Ronnie Jones, Liane Erickson, Pat Howard, Mark Feldman, and William Budnick, while the remaining girls helped with make-up, prompting, and costumes. Later, the group put on the same play for the sophomores with Ronnie Rivchun, Catherine Falcon, Lesli Sanderson, Mark Feldman, and William Budnick in the cast.

Part-Timers

In 1929 the part-time system was inaugurated at Brockton High School under the supervision of Miss Beatrice L. Bosworth. Every year since then approximately forty junior girls have been selected from the Commercial Course to serve as part-timers in their senior year. The girls are chosen on the basis of their scholastic abilities and attendance records at school. Part-timers must also be conscientious, reliable, and trustworthy.

There are two divisions which alternate weekly. As one group receives classroom instruction, the other aids in the secretarial functions of the Brockton School System. This program was set up to give the girls practical experience that cannot be learned in a classroom. The part-time system has been very beneficial and successful for all those involved.

Student Government Exchange

Second row: James Vierra, Thomas Arthur.

The State Student Government Exchange Team was carried on under the direction of the State Department of Education. The purpose of this program was to inform students from a city school about a town government and to acquaint students from a town with city government. The exchange this year was with Stoneham High School. After lunch in the school cafeteria the exchange team toured the school and saw the city. In the evening, after dinner at a well-known restaurant, the visitors attended the City Council meeting.

The bookstore, located near the cafeteria, was open each day from 11:45 to 1:30. Among the five hundred volumes on sale were classics, biographies, modern novels, and reference works. The store also stocked BHS folders, pens, book covers, and beanies. The Student Council managed the bookstore and kept its profits in the council's treasury.

Because of double sessions rallies could not be held before major games. To show their school spirit, hundreds of students staged silent rallies by wearing red and black beanies to class. Student Council sponsored Beanie Day.

This year marked the second anniversary of the Brocktonia Chapter of the National Honor Society. Two inductions were held, one for seniors in December and one for juniors in March.

A student is chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. To be eligible, one must maintain a 1.5 average. Each member receives a certificate and an honor society pin.

Teas were held honoring the new inductees and their parents.

Orchestra

To one unversed in music, the usually melodious, sometimes unharmonious sounds which emanated from the assembly hall during Monday's and Wednesday's seventh hour probably seemed a bit incongruous to a school absorbed in its studies.

Actually the orchestra represented the combined efforts of twenty students from all three classes. Under the direction of Mr. Walter M. Smith, these students practiced their musicianship on representative works of many of the world's greatest composers. Their goal was not only technical improvement but also an acquaintance with the masterpieces of musical literature.

Although the Brockton High School Orchestra was diminutive in size, its spirit made up for any lack of numbers.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. Walter M. Smith, added color to the football games and Tech Tourney. Led by the Drum Majorettes, this group represented Brockton High School in parades, at the annual spring music festival, and at dedications. The Band performed at assemblies and graduation exercises.

The musical combinations the group played ranged from lively marches to solemn graduation hymns. Several innovations were introduced this year. New marching steps in varied formations added interest to the public appearances.

The Mathematics Club was organized to create interest in areas of mathematics not usually studied in the classroom. This year thirty-five students participated in the various activities of the club. The program consisted of talks by guest speakers, presentation of projects by students, showing of films, and field trips to computer centers, one at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the other at the Morse Shoe Company.

During the year the math team competed in the Greater Boston Math League contests. Brockton was host to teams for the second contest. The teams of thirty-two schools competed in this league. The members were trained to answer questions ranging from arithmetic to trigonometry and higher algebra. The Math Club has recently acquired over one hundred books on various mathematical subjects. Filling a need for the future, this activity helped to prepare students for success in higher mathematics.

Meetings of the German Club were held twice each month. Friday afternoon meetings were conducted for business, and Saturday evening meetings were held at the homes of the various club members for pleasure. Many German songs, dances, and customs were learned. Also interesting speakers of the German nationality came to talk to the club.

A festival, called "Tivoli," was held Saturday, May 2, at Boston University for German Club members from surrounding schools. Each representative recited a German piece. Our representative this year was Jill Hoffman, the president of the club.

For the final gathering of the German Club, the members enjoyed a dinner at a German restaurant. The officers of the group were as follows: President, Jill Hoffman; Vice-President, Gregory Masaitis; Treasurer, Ralph Janaro; and Secretaries, Jeanne Owens and Betty Marella.

One of the outstanding activities sponsored by the Class was the Pigskin Social, held November 22, 1963, under the direction of Miss Claire M. Appling, Mr. Gerald F. Faherty, and Mr. Clyde A. Maxfield. Awards were presented to the senior members of the football squad for their proficiency demonstrated on the field.

On January 17, 1964, the Junior Prom, "Evening in Paris," was held at the North Junior High School. The gym was cleverly transformed into a Parisian setting with a French sidewalk café and models of the famous Eiffel Tower and the Arch of Triumph. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen.

Next on the calendar was the class trip to Washington and New York City during April vacation. The itinerary included a brief visit to Arlington Cemetery to see the grave of our thirty-fifth President and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. In Washington the group toured the Capitol, the White House, and the Smithsonian Institute. This museum interested the students because it houses national collections of scientific objects. In New York City the first stop was Radio City Music Hall for a morning performance. In the afternoon, at the United Nations Building, the group learned about many functions of that organization.

Through these activities the Class of 1965 enjoyed a stimulating junior year. The largest incoming senior class since 1946, numbering almost a thousand students, the Class of 1965 is fully prepared to accept responsibility for preserving the academic, athletic, and social traditions of Brockton High School.

Despite the severe handicap of playing under double sessions, an all-sophomore JV football squad managed to compile a 2-2 record during the regular season. Captain David Sheehan, halfback Robert Doulette, and quarterback Greg Sabine were some of the key performers for Coach Ippolito's team, which shows much promise of giving BHS a fine varsity squad in the years to come.

Swimming Team

Second row: William Weaver, Gregory Sabine, Ronald Loto (co-captain), Peter Walsh (co-captain), Kirk O'Reilly, Coach Americo Deacutis.

Third row: Ralph Paulson, Brian Leach, David Fogg, James Levine, Ralph Hogan, Carl Johnson, Dennis Hursey.

Not present: Howard Rosenberg, Robert Sabine.

Although lacking substantial depth, having won only two meets during the regular season, the BHS Swimming Team was strong in individual talent. Captains Ronald Loto and Peter Walsh paced the red and black in the freestyles and individual medley, while Ralph Paulson, one of Coach Decautis' best swimmers, was the backstroke and butterfly specialist. Such sophomore and junior stars as James Levine, David Fogg, and Greg Sabine give BHS new hope for the future in swimming competition.

Hockey Team

Third row: John Williams, Seppo Pakkala, Lee DiMarzio, Douglas Kennedy, William Colarusso, Donald Callow, Samuel Pinnetti.

The BHS Hockey Team has enjoyed one of its finest seasons in many years. Playing around a young nucleus, Brockton won four games and tied two.

Seniors Paul Byer and Captain Thomas Alger gave Coach James McElholm the experience with which to build. Byer, a goalie, held a 2.5 goal per game average, including two shutouts. Alger, who played defense, was the key factor in many of the Brockton wins.

Track Team

Members of the track team competed in running, hurdling, jumping, and throwing. The running events consisted of races at 100, 200, 440, and 880 yards. The hurdling races were at 120 yards over ten 3' 6" hurdles, 220 yards over ten 2' 6" hurdles, and 440 yards over ten 3' hurdles. Jumping events included the running high jump, pole vault, and running broad jump. Finally, the discus throw, shot put, and javelin constituted the throwing events. Athletes must have great strength and endurance to participate in these events. The members of the BHS Track Team, paced by Capt. Richard Sullivan, have fulfilled these requirements.

Cross Country Team

Second row: Coach Raymond F. Bussolari, Gerald Burke, Joel Cohn, Michael McLaughlin, Paul Massod, Robert Martin, Lee Kupperman, Gerald Conefrey, Robert McGee.

Not present for picture: Ronald Crealese, Douglas Ramsay, Joseph Morana.

Tennis Team

Second row: Owen Lieber, George Benoit, Captain Dennis Jackson, Neal Benson, Thomas Hedges, Edward Harrington.

Third row: Manager James McKay, James Vierra, Robert Maraglia, Bruce Galante, Coach Jack M. Dunmead.

Baseball Team

 Second row: Fred Studley, Co-Captain Peter Duhamel, Co-Captain Cliff Shearing, Paul Florio.
 Missing: Edward Callow, Mickey Looney, Ronald Douillette.

At the time the yearbook went to press in early April, the BHS Baseball Team, showing both offensive and defensive prowess in pre-season play, was expected to be a top contender in the Suburban League. A pitching staff, centered around Gary Fisher and Scott Kriger, and a strong infield, led by Co-Captain Cliff Shearing, gave Coach Charles Puliafico the nucleus around which to build. Co-Captain Peter Duhamel was to be behind the plate for Brockton, while the outfield positions remained wide open with many fine prospects competing for the starting berths.

Golf Team

Second row: Bruce Young, Co-Captain Richard Straczynski, Co-Captain David Meade, John McCoy.

Third row: John Giardino, Chris Giovanniello, Peter Linde, David Young, Coach Robert J. O'Connell.

Golf, a slow but exciting game, requires years of practice. A good golfer usually begins at an early age and works to improve his score. In order to develop the muscular coordination and power necessary to succeed in this game, a player must practice his swing often.

Before every shot many conditions must be checked: the wind speed and direction, the condition of the fairway, proper stance, and the location of the cup on the green. A skillful golfer is also an exact judge of distance, for to achieve the best results on each shot, he must choose from thirteen clubs of various weights and sizes, each club being designed to send the ball a different distance. In golf, unlike the other sports, the team with the lowest score wins.

This year the BHS Golf Team was co-captained by David Meade and Richard Straczynski. The squad, composed mostly of underclassmen, was coached by Mr. Robert J. O'Connell.

It is virtually impossible to actually relive experiences, but through the pages of this yearbook, which tells the story of our class, we hope that you will remember and thus almost relive the experiences that made up your high school years.

For the past twelve years, our teachers have endeavored to help us prepare for that step we must all take on June 3, our first step into an adult world. May that world hold for you health, happiness, and success.

"Consider that this day ne'er dawns again."
